BUNTING

STEP 1: GET YOUR LUNCHES

Set a date for the auction and put up some posters to get your colleagues interested. The more people you have to participate, the better the auction will be!

People can choose to bring in last night's leftovers, or cook something a bit special. They might decide to make the ultimate sandwich themselves, or buy one from the local deli. Whatever it is, make it good – remember you want people to bid for your lunch!

STEP 2: POOL YOUR LUNCHES

On the day, put up your bunting and pop your lunchboxes on a table using the Lunchbox Tags to list the ingredients. Randomly assign a number from 1 upwards to each lunchbox and write it on the tag.

STEP 3: BID FOR YOUR LUNCHES

You'll need to appoint an Auction Master to oversee the auction – once they are firmly in character, start the bidding for the lunchbox numbered 1 and go from there!

The highest bidder wins the lunchbox!

Next lunchbox to bid for is – you guessed it – lunchbox 2, until all lunchboxes are gone!

STEP 4: EAT YOUR LUNCHES!

Congratulate the person whose lunchbox raised the most before settling down to eat yours in the knowledge that you are treating people who are experiencing homelessness to lunch with your donations. Thank you.
